GREAT LOSSES ANTICIPATED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, July 8.—The "big push" which the British and French have at last attempted along the northern portion of the German line has been viewed by at least some of the officers in the British trenches as likely to entail a sacrifice of life "that no general will be prepared to face," according to a captain whose letter from the British front written, just before the big forward movement began, gives some interesting light on the present psychology of the men in the trenches. Ralph L. Shaniwald, a New York manufacturer, makes public the letter, without disclosing the identity of the captain who wrote it.

"We talked of a 'big push' when I was in London," says the officer. "It may be attempted, and I may be in it, but the sacrifice of life will be something that in my humble opinion, no general will be prepared to face. Only those who have had some experience of trench warfare can appreciate the stupendous difficulties of a great forward movement, with its attendant wholesale slaughter of the very blood that England requires most. No; in my opinion, valueless though it be, our policy must be one of attrition—of wearing out the enemy—a policy that I fully recognize, however, may mean the bankruptcy of the civilized world. Verdun is doubtless the last great effort of a desperate and wonderfully organized military nation, but its failure in that quarter will not render the task of overthrowing its well-handled masses of troops very much easier, under trench circumstance."

In other parts of his letter, the British captain frankly discloses what he thinks of war:

"Between you and me", he says "war is the most damnable, stupid, nonsensical thing that was ever invented for settling disputes, and is carried on by brainless, well-meaning men, that you wouldn't give the office boy's job to. Incompetence, inefficiency, and pluck; effrontery, interference, red tape and ability, are all mixed up together out here, in a manner that would drive a business man like you crazy."

"I have no intention of wearying you with tales of 'hurling' shells, and the deafening roar of cannon, making your blood run cold with stories of the sights that disgust you and yet fill you with deep sympathy of shocks and hairbreadth escapes; of tales of valour, and of trembling knees; of the brave British officer shaving under shell fire (although I have done that stunt many a morning, without cutting myself); of shots that pierced the tunic to be deflected finally by the small bible presented by the blue and brown eyed maiden of Bloomsbury Square; of the bullying officer being saved by the fresh-faced youngster fulfilling a 'noble revenge'."

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS GIVEN

Following summary of the weather and crop conditions in the United States and state of Ohio, is from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and is of more than passing interest:

Summary of weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat region for the week ending July 4, 1916.—The week was much warmer in the central states and corn made satisfactory growth, although generally still backward. Much needed cultivation was carried on. Corn is tasseling in South Carolina, earing well in Arkansas and maturing Texas. Winter wheat harvest progressed well in the central part of the country. The weather was favorable in the North for spring wheat, rye, barley, flax, oats, pastures meadows, potatoes and most fruit. Some oats rust is reported in the Ohio Valley. Rye and barley are ripening in the central districts. Sugar beets are growing slowly in the extreme North, but are improved in Colorado and Oregon. Tobacco harvest is under way in the South and setting is completed in Wisconsin. The plants are growing well in central and northern districts. Cotton has been favorably affected by the weather. Cattle ranges are suffering for rain in central and lower Rocky Mountain and Plateau states.

Summary of weather and crop conditions in Ohio.—The weather during the past week was unusually fine for all agricultural interests and farming operations of all kinds were pushed and are now well advanced. Corn is still backward but having received a through cultivation is now growing rapidly. The harvesting of winter wheat is progressing successfully in southern and central sections, and winter wheat is ripening and spring wheat and oats are heading in northern counties. There is some complaint of rust and weeds in the oats; also of fruit dropping in few localities. Haying is now active with highly satisfactory results. Potatoes, pastures and fruits generally, are doing well.

Mr. Can't Afford, Attention!

OCCASIONALLY the Chautauqua Committee finds a man who says he can't afford to attend the Chautauqua. This advertisement is addressed to him.

When a man's house needs painting he paints it. It isn't a question of whether he can afford to paint just then. He borrows the money, if need be, to paint, for he knows he can't afford not to paint.

When a man is sick he gets the doctor. Even if his bank account is as sick as he is, he knows he can't afford not to have the doctor, even though he think he can't afford to have him.

Day after day you stick to your job, wearing your brain thin with the ever-recurring monotony of labor. Your brain is your best servant. It needs repairs just as much as the house you live in needs paint. It gets sick just as much as your physical body gets sick. It gets tired, run down, dispirited.

The Chautauqua will do more to tone up and put in running order your tired brain than a week at the seashore. It will plant new thoughts, stir new energies, awaken new inspiration. It will soothe with great music, rest with choice entertainment.

The two dollars spent for a Chautauqua ticket isn't an expenditure—it's an investment. It brings returns as surely as a government bond. You tackle your job with renewed energy after you've been in attendance at the Chautauqua. Your increased horse-power soon returns the two dollars ten-fold.

And the folks at home need the vacation, too. Mrs. Can't Afford gets just as run-down as you do. Try the season ticket panacea on her. She'll be a new woman when she comes home from the Chautauqua. She'll go singing about her work, like a woman ought to do.

The Can't Afford children need the Junior Chautauqua, too. A dollar takes care of them, and they'll have the time of their lives.

Can't afford the Chautauqua! Why, man, you can't afford to do without it. Fourteen sessions for two dollars. Fourteen cents a session. You can save it every day by cutting down on the little luxuries—and it will pay a thousand per cent dividend in increased efficiency.

Get that season ticket today!

Washington C. H. Chautauqua.

Resourcefulness in War

The new plan of warfare adopted on the western front by the British and French has rendered the extensive and elaborate trench defenses of the Germans practically valueless.

In the great German advance in the early stages of the war the "impregnable" fortresses of the French and Belgians were reduced to mere heaps of scrap iron and powder, in a flash by the enormous German siege guns.

Then followed the perfecting of trench defenses by the Germans who, it seems now, erred in supposing that they had exceeded the ingenuity of man.

The British and French have singled out the first line trench defenses and by maintaining a merciless fire to the rear have cut off the first line troops from all relief from the rear. In that manner the holders of the first line are starved into such a weakened condition that their ability to resist the charge is practically nil.

Each line of trenches and each army of trench defenders in turn falls victim to the attacking forces.

The loss of life in this method of attack is less to both the forces engaged than it was under the straight away assaults in massed formation.

East and west the offensive of the allies has been crowned with important success and that Germany is stunned by the violence and the immensity of the concerted attack admits of no doubt.

If the allies can maintain the rate of advance thus far made and force the Germans to retreat beyond their innermost line of entrenchments—force the armies of the Kaiser into the open field—then the end of the war cannot be far in the future.

Man's ingenuity in warfare as in peace is limitless. It never has been rendered valueless by any man-made creation and never will be. If the allied advance is compelled to halt before the Germans are forced to fight in the open field man's resourcefulness may once again turn the tide.

The Shade Trees

At this time when so many blocks of Washington streets are being improved with asphalt, brick or cement and the city so substantially improved, and beautified too, it is well to give a thought to the shade trees.

Time was not many years ago when Washington was wealthy in the quantity and quality of shade trees which lined her streets. Two or three crusades of street grading and street improving, however, have wrought sad havoc with the trees.

Some of our public spirited progressive organizations other than those composed of men or women could do a great public service by calling the attention of the railroad companies to the long expanse of blazing hot sunny stretches which could be done away with with very little trouble and expense. The chances are the railroads and other corporations holding long frontage on the newly paved streets would be glad to comply with a request to plant trees. If they failed the organizations might chip in and beautify the sunny, barren places.

With our beautifully paved avenues and streets the planting of shade trees, with some plan of regularity would produce marvelously gratifying results.

Vacation Time Visits

From this time on until the close of vacation days almost every train arriving in and departing from the smaller cities and hamlets of the rural sections leaves or takes aboard its precious bit of human freight in the shape of some happy, bright eyed little boy or girl who's "goin' visitin'."

Those are the big events of a life—they are the days that are never forgotten. There is no time in the short span of life that lies behind nor the long stretch of years which is ahead, no matter how eventful the future life may be, that is quite so important as the trip to grandma's home in some distant town.

As a matter of course, following the inexorable rule which makes no exception for young or old, there is some bitterness mixed with the sweet. There are the lonesome times at twilight when the crickets sing so loud and when the whip-poor-will cries more plaintively than he ever did at home—there's the awful homesickness and other sorrows which seem unbearable at night but which vanish with the rising sun and the beginning of another day of pleasure.

As we grow older and see the little folks starting out on their journeys we wonder if they have as good a time as in our old days, whether it is really as far away now days to grandma's as it "used to be."

Consideration is assuring. The events of childhood are important today as they ever were. The coming of the automobile and the increase in railroads may have changed conditions under which the visits of childhood are made but it has not reduced the importance of "the event."

Poetry For Today

THE OLD FLAG TO-DAY.

Oh, mornin' to the old flag, the old flag to-day,
The flag that lifts its colors o'er our heads along the way.
The flag that speaks of freedom,
And that cheers us at our dream
With the memories that it freshens
With the beauty of its gleam!

Mornin' to the old flag, and many a cheer again
To the banner in its beauty as it waves above our men.
The flag that holds us fashioned
In the unity that counts
As we climb through trial and duty
As the golden nation mounts!

Oh, mornin' to the old flag that's bobbin' in the breeze,
Its stars and stripes so lovely through the green boughs of the trees!
The flag that finds us ready
To follow and to die
Where'er its folds are wa'rin'
And where'er its ribbons fly!
—Baltimore Sun.

Secrecy in Parliament.

Heavy penalties are inflicted for the revelation of parliamentary secret sessions or cabinet decisions, but they cannot well be heavier than those which the parliament of Henry VII, inflicted for a similar offense. One member of the house of commons was foolish enough to tell the king himself what the commons had been debating. He was sent to the tower, and a special act of parliament was passed by which he and his posterity were barred from sitting in the house of commons as the "representative of any place whatever." In the days of Queen Elizabeth a certain Mr. Hall, M. P., was found guilty of revealing the debates in the commons. He was expelled from the house, sent to the Tower for six months and fined £500—a considerable fortune in those days.—London Spectator.

Dark Nebulae.

A new astronomical belief is that there are not only dark stars in space, but dark nebulae. The dark stars are invisible, revealing themselves only by their effect on the motion or light of bright stars, but dark nebulae may be visible as unlighted masses showing against the feebly luminous background of space. Professor E. E. Barnard notes that many striking dark patches of sky hitherto supposed to be simply starless regions may be really dark nebulae. The case of Hind's nebula in Taurus, which is now feebly visible after completely fading away from a state of conspicuous brilliancy shows that a nebula may lose its light, and perhaps many have never had any light.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

America's Most Famous Woman Publicist to Be Heard Here

WHEN the Chautauqua brings to our city attractions of such commanding merit as Ida M. Tarbell, associate editor of the American Magazine, perhaps the most noted woman publicist of the world, it demonstrates anew its right to be classed with the great educational influences of America.

Miss Tarbell needs no introduction. Her works have preceded her and endeared her to the thinking people of this country. A forceful writer, a constructive thinker, a seer of visions and encies were not corrected. She believed and she had courage to express her convictions that no true democracy could exist where an autocracy of wealth held individual endeavor at bay. Strangely enough, for once a prophet has received honor in his own country, and Miss Tarbell is today recognized as a foremost exponent of the propaganda of business justice which is remaking America.

In her lecture on "Industrial Idealism," which she will deliver at the a goer of deeds, Miss Tarbell has won her place in the affections of all true Americans. When her researches led her on to the trail of corporate business years ago she did not hesitate to say the words that were then unpopular and to point out, with the vision of a prophet, the rocks ahead of the business bank of America if certain tendencies were not corrected.

Chautauqua, Miss Tarbell will discuss a subject with which she is thoroughly familiar, and you will be impressed by the absolute fairness of her deductions. Her sympathies are with the worker, but she makes plain her belief that the men who are helping to solve the workers' problem are the employers.

CASES OF INTEREST TURN UP IN COURT OF JUSTICE

Two Women Charged With Sale of Morphine and One Is Held to Grand Jury—Arrests Made When State Inspectors Visit Country Stores—Man Is Bound Over for Obstructing Highway.

Justice of the Peace of Jasper township, John D. McMahan, is having a number of cases of more than ordinary interest, and two of these grow out of charges filed by State Inspectors who caused the arrest of two women on the James-town pike, on charges of selling morphine—an offense which is a most serious one under the new law.

Mrs. Hanna Gilmore, of West Lancaster, is one of the women, and her case has been adjourned until Tuesday, July 18th, when she will appear before Justice McMahan to answer to charges of selling, bartering, giving away and having morphine in her possession. The charge was filed by Lee J. Dumm, State Inspector, who worked for sometime on the case before causing the woman's arrest.

In connection with the case it is announced that the names of others in the county and in Sabina were mentioned as having sold morphine to the woman's husband. Whether other arrests will be made remains to be seen, but for the present the inspectors will allow matters to rest until the charges against the woman are disposed of.

The second charge was filed by Inspector E. B. Barnes, and is against Mrs. N. L. Carr. The affidavit charges that the offense was committed June 2nd. In the case of Mrs. Carr she entered a plea of not guilty, waived examination and was held to the grand jury under $200 bond, which was furnished.

It is claimed that the inspectors, while working on the other morphine case, stopped at the Carr store and saw morphine on a shelf. It is further claimed that when they inquired concerning the morphine, they were informed by the defendant that she had had the drug there for sometime, and had thought of destroying it. The inspectors, it is asserted, made an offer to purchase the drug and this, according to one of the men, was accepted and they made the purchase accordingly.

The result of both cases will be watched with a great deal of interest.

Another case in Justice McMahan's court is that of A. M. Hidy, charged by L. B. Sanderson with obstructing the highway in West Lancaster by allowing some old machinery to block the thoroughfare. He was held to the grand jury under $100 bond.

MANY CHANGES TO BE MADE IN MELVIN BLOCK

New Front Being Installed in Business Room Occupied by Glicksman Store and Second Floor of Entire Block Is to Be Modernized for Offices.

Extensive improvements in the Commercial Bank Block, owned by Geo. Melvin of Columbus, are now under way, and when completed the block will present a very different appearance insofar as the Glicksman room and the second story are concerned.

The old style front of the Glicksman store is now being removed and will be supplanted by a thoroughly modern front, with attractive display window and plate glass paneled door. Other changes will be made in the room to make it more attractive and modern.

The old stairway between the Glicksman store and that of H. C. Anthoni will be torn out and a wider stairway constructed. The course of the stairway is to be altered somewhat after the stairs ascend some twelve feet, so that the office rooms may be of easier access.

The office rooms themselves, of which there are several in the building, will be greatly changed, and so arranged that they will be really desirable, comfortable and attractive.

The expense to Mr. Melvin will be somewhat heavy, but the results are expected to be correspondingly satisfactory.

J. A. TWAY DIES EARLY SATURDAY

Death Comes During Sleep and Following Illness of Heart Trouble—Was Superintendent of County Children's Home 8 Years and Man of Many Sterling Qualities.

Following a critical illness of three weeks due to valvular heart trouble, at the age of 58 years, Mr. J. Austin Tway, former Superintendent of the Children's Home, and widely known Fayette countian, answered the eternal summons at his country home on the Staunton pike, in the early dawn of Saturday morning.

In the death of Mr. Tway this county loses not alone one of her progressive farmers and influential citizens; she loses also one of the sterling men of the community, a fine type of Christian gentleman, possessing a genial and kindly personality and a nature which expended itself in helpfulness for others. He was a man who stood for the best things of the community and the community can ill afford to lose him.

"Aus" Tway, as he was best known in the upper part of the county, belonged to one of the pioneer families of Paint township and his family connection is extensive. He was the son of the late John Tway and his wife belonged to the well known Badger family of Madison county, so that his death touches circles by no means merely local.

Two daughters, Mrs. H. D. Parrett of Del Norte, Colo., and Miss Elsa Tway, mourn with their mother a most devoted husband and father, so survive.

Two brothers, Mr. John Tway, Jr. of Paint township, and Mr. Manford Tway of Madison county, and one sister, Mrs. William Durlinger, also survive.

Mr. Tway was one of the successful school teachers of the county as well as a prominent farmer, until he was elected Superintendent of the Children's Home in 1905. This position he filled with the same capability which had characterized all his other affairs and both he and his wife, matron of the institution, gave conscientious attention to the welfare of their charges, as well as to the other interests of the Home.

Mr. Tway had been one of the standbys of the M. E. church of Union Chapel and in his removal to the Staunton neighborhood was equally active in the Staunton M. E. church and Superintendent of the Sunday school at the time of his death.

He was also a prominent member and officer of Garfield Commandery No. 28, until his health began to fail.

The great sorrow which has come to the Tway home is widely shared and the utmost sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

Funeral services will be held at Staunton M. E. church Monday at 10 a. m. Burial will be made in the family lot in the Bloomingburg cemetery.

TRIES SUICIDE, IS MAIMED FOR LIFE

Otto Burton, Highland County youth, tried suicide a day or two ago, but in pulling the trigger of a shot gun which he had placed in his mouth, the gun was turned aside and the charge carried away the young man's nose and part of his face, leaving him maimed for life.

Attending physicians predict an early recovery for the youth.

WATER CUT OFF CITIZENS AROUSED

Citizens' Ire Aroused When Water Supply Is Cut Off Without Proper Warning, and for Purpose of Making Repair on One Main—Council Urged to Act Without Delay.

Probably no event occurring in this city in recent months has caused the inconvenience and brought forth greater storms of protest than the action of the Washington Water Company, Saturday forenoon, cutting off the water supply of the city, without previous notice to consumers, while repairs were being made upon a hydrant on Washington avenue.

Notice had been given to Mayor Oster by a member of the firm that water would be turned off at eight o'clock Friday morning, and this information was given out accordingly by Mayor Oster.

However when Friday morning came the Water Company did not proceed with the repairs as previously announced, and the mains were not molested.

Saturday morning, when everyone was without knowledge of what was coming, the water was cut off for some two hours while repairs were under way, but contrary to the orders of Mayor Oster who had informed the company that the water must not be turned off throughout the city, but in the zone where the repairs were being made, the water was turned off throughout the business district, and so far as known, throughout most of the residence district.

Protests arose in abundance, and many prominent citizens declared procedure nothing short of an outrage, and stated that they will urge the city council immediately to take steps to prevent a recurrence of the inconvenience, discomforts and dangers due to no water in the mains.

One prominent citizen stated that if the Water Company has no valves with which to cut off the water in a limited area, that steps should be taken to force installation of the valves, and if valves existed and were not in working order, as rumored, that the company should be forced to place them in proper condition.

Several of the consumers whose business depends largely upon constant and abundant water supply mention the great inconvenience and damage suffered in loss of trade and inability to conduct their work.

Still another citizen who was very much wrought up over what he declared was an uncalled for act upon the part of the Water Company, states that in addition to the inconvenience caused by cutting off the water in nearly all mains, that such an act riles the water so that it is hardly in condition to be used for sometime after the water is turned on.

City officials are being urged upon all sides to take whatever action is necessary to prevent the cutting off of the water supply, not alone for the inconvenience suffered by consumers, but because of the ever present fire dangers.

BIG PLANS FOR STATE HORSE SHOW

Mr. Howard Allen has been in Columbus the past few days, in the interest of the big State Horse Show which will be an interesting feature of the State Fair, and of which Mr. Allen is manager.

Mr. Allen is not permitting any delay in the arrangements and by placing his shoulder to the wheel early is obtaining most satisfactory results.

Four of the largest stables of horses in Ohio have been listed for the show, including the big stable of John L. Bushnell, of Springfield, who has never exhibited at a show in Ohio, with the exception of the Springfield show.

In the five gaited Saddle Horse class $600 in prizes will be given. In the three gaited saddle horse class $600 will be given, and in the Ohio Owned saddle horse class $300 will be awarded.

Mr. Allen reports most satisfactory prospects for the show, and it is believed it will be the greatest ever conducted in the state.

MANY WITNESSES IN ASSAULT CASE

The accused men in the case wherein Ruth Maag was recently attacked, are preparing to fight the charges, and to that end are giving the names of a large number of persons desired for witnesses. It is understood the witnesses for the accused alone will reach above the 50 mark.

While arrangements are being made to hold the trial Monday, it is extremely doubtful if the injured girl will be able to appear in court at that time, as she is still in an extremely nervous condition and will require sometime to recover.

STUTSON PICNIC IN PROCTOR WOOD ENJOYABLE EVENT

Forty-five Folks Who Are Connected With Department Store Have Picnic Supper in the Country.

Picture Shows and Entertainment in the City Following the Evening in the Outdoors.

One of the jolliest picnic suppers imaginable was enjoyed by the clerks of the Stutson department store on the Proctor farm, Friday evening. The whole force turned out, forty-five being seated for the picnic spread.

It certainly was some supper—fried chicken, home made cakes, great piles of all kinds of sandwiches, brick ice cream, with many other delicacies and all the lemonade possible to drink, topped off with candy and knick knacks.

The beautiful wooded knoll overlooking the winding brook, provided an ideal place for the picnic and adding the final touch to the evening's pleasure was the perfect July night, with the brilliant sunset turning the western sky rosy, while the crescent moon rose slowly in the east.

It was the first outing of this kind engaged in by the store, but its unmitigated success makes it a foregone conclusion that it will not be the last.

The picnic was given in honor of Miss Carrie Craig and Miss Grace Wally. Mrs. W. B. Hershey in a happy little speech announced the engagement of Miss Carrie Craig, for a number of years the efficient cashier of the Stutson store, to Mr. C. K. Knight, of Philadelphia, instructor in the Wharton School of Commerce and Finance of Pennsylvania.

The engagement will elicit the best wishes of the many friends of Miss Craig. The wedding takes place in the fall.

Mrs. Hershey also expressed the regret of the store in losing Miss Wally from the ready-to-wear department. She is returning to her home in Bainbridge.

After informal toasts to the honor guests the party left the supper table to enjoy the beautiful support for a short time before the big crowd piled into autos for the moonlight drive home.

Mr. Stutson had presented each one present with passes to any of the picture theaters of the city and the entire crowd—regardless of its numbers—visited the shows en masse, thoroughly appreciating the courtesy of their employer in the evening's pleasurable climax.

In Social Circles

The girls of Mrs. Ada Jones' Sunday school class, the "C. I. C." held their monthly meeting and annual picnic at the home of Mrs. S. F. DeWees, Friday afternoon; Mrs. DeWees' daughter, Miss Helen, being one of the class.

It was one of the most delightful affairs in which the class has participated. The large lawn, abloom with summer flowers and having an immense flower bed of old fashioned flowers extremely pretty, was a most inviting place on a warm summer afternoon.

A short program was given including a piano duet by Miss Blanche Sark, of Blancheater, and Miss Opal Stanforth, piano solo, Miss Eleanor McLean and paper, "Barnabas," Miss Helen DeWees.

After the program the girls crowned their president, Miss Eleanor McLean, with a wreath of flowers as they grouped around her and had a picture taken of the pretty scene.

After contests, tennis and a general good time there was a sumptuous picnic feast.

The only thing which marred the pleasure of the occasion was the unavoidable absence of the teacher, Mrs. Jones. Mrs. William Craig, a former teacher, was an honor guest and Miss Sark of Blancheater, Clara DeWees and Little Leontine Staubs guests.

The girls of the class are Eleanor McClain, Nelle Cissna, Opal Stanforth, Elizabeth Hendryx, Dorothy Dill, Mildred Taylor, Lucile Bush, Mildred Wolfe, Lucy Garringer, Elsie Foreman, Helen DeWees, Marcella Griffith.

FUNSTON READY FOR RAIDERS

Villa Bandits Now Headed For the Border.

CARRANZA FORWARDS TIP

Suggests That the American Troops Exercise Particular Vigilance in the Stretch of Border Between Boquillas and Ojinaga and Promises His Own Forces Will Make Every Effort to Run Down the Outlaws.

Washington, July 8.—The first move in a campaign of co-operation against bandits threatening the American border was suggested by the de facto government of Mexico. First Chief Carranza, through Ambassador Designate Arredondo, notified the state department that a de facto government force had been destroyed by a large band of Villa followers at Carrizillos, Chihuahua, on Wednesday. Carranza expressed the fear that this band had proceeded northward through the desert and might concentrate near the border for a raid into United States territory. He suggested that the American troops on the border exercise particular vigilance in the stretch of border line between Boquillas and Ojinaga and promised that meanwhile every effort would be made by his own forces to pursue and capture the bandits.

The dispatch containing the warning was at once turned over to Secretary of War Baker by the state department and telegraphed to General Funston's headquarters, and officials here expressed the belief that the Villa band will meet with a warm reception if it attempts to cross the line.

The presumed line of march which the band has taken was within striking distance of any of the troops of General Pershing's expeditionary force. It is over rough country and through desert regions, where Carranza himself has practically no troops. The danger, it is explained, will come from a possible sudden concentration of the band near some selected point on the border for a sudden incursion over the line.

General Funston's most difficult problem will be to ascertain in advance at what point the raiders are making for and thereby be able to concentrate a sufficient force to meet them. Army officers here say that General Funston may find the use of his aeroplanes of inestimable value in locating the band on its approach.

The note which President Wilson directed to be dispatched to Carranza expressed gratification over the conciliatory attitude of the de facto government and promised hearty co-operation without going into details as to the methods to be employed in endeavoring to reach an adjustment of the matters in dispute.

The first move toward definite discussion of the various phases of the

GAINS MADE IN GALICIA

London Reports Further British Successes On the Somme—Halt Noted In the French Drive—Germans Recover Portion of Lost Ground—Italians Hammering the Austrian Lines. Review of Day's Operations.

London, July 8.—The Russian armies operating in southeastern Galicia are now within ten miles of both Stanislaw and Nadvorna, and are pressing their advance westward, despite increasingly stubborn Austrian resistance. The Austrian force that evacuated Mikuliczyn, giving the Russians command of an important railway, are now retiring southward along the Carpathian mountains.

The Russians have extended their offensive on an unprecedented scale. On the whole front from Riga to Baranovichi, a distance of about 300 miles, the Russians are being hurled against the German lines.

The Italians claim continued progress for their offensive in the Trentino district, but apparently there has been no great change in this field of the war.

The British forces resumed their offensive from the Ancre brook to where their lines join the French, and the battle of the Somme entered into its second phase. Violent fighting raged throughout the day. The new British onslaught was met by furious counter attacks on the part of the Germans, who had used the last three days' lull on that front for bringing up reinforcements. The net result of the combat was that the British had broken into the German trenches east of La Boisselle on a width of 1,000 yards, while the Germans succeeded in regaining 200 or 300 yards of lost ground northwest of Thiepval, according to the British official statement.

The French made no infantry attacks on either side of the Somme. General Foch is marking time, waiting for British to bring up their line sufficiently to have it conform with the French new positions and remove the danger of flank attacks on the latter.

There is no concealing the fact that the Anglo-French line is still far from being straightened out. The British are still well behind the French.

Briefly summarized these are the successes gained by the British: They

NEED HELP TO CHECK SCOURGE

Red Cross Nurses Wanted By New York Authorities.

New York, July 8.—An appeal to the American Red Cross for nurses to aid in stamping out the scourge of infantile paralysis here, which since June 1 has caused nearly 200 deaths among children, was made by Health Commissioner Emerson. There are not enough trained nurses available in New York to handle the work, he said, and it has been found necessary to ask aid from the chief of the Red Cross bureau of nursing at Washington. It was intimated that several hundred workers would be needed.

The call for help was sent out after a day devoted by health authorities and the most prominent physicians of the Greater City to a discussion of means by which the spread of the disease can be checked. Some encouragement was found in the fact that fewer new cases were reported. All the medical men agree, however, that only by unremitting vigilance and the strict enforcement of every known sanitary precaution can the epidemic be kept within bounds.

TEXAS GIRLS' GREETING TO SOLDIERS; ONE NOT SO PLEASANT FROM A RATTLER

Two incidents, one pleasant and the other unpleasant, of the arrival of the militiamen in Texas are shown in the accompanying pictures. Each has been duplicated many times. One depicts the pleasant greeting extended by Texas girls to the "boys from the north;" the other the killing of a Texas rattler by a trooper who had never before seen the dangerous ophidian outside of a zoo cage. Texas is exerting itself to make the stay of the soldier boys pleasant.

MEAN THE END?

(By American Press)

New York, July 8.—A big slump is likely in the business of making munitions for the entente powers and in fact has already set in. Thousands of workmen have been dismissed by various firms who have closed the doors of plants created or enlarged for the purpose of putting out arms, ammunitions and war material for England, France and Russia. Most of the contracts let early in the war have been filled. In many cases there were no renewals. One reason for this is the fact that some of the American output has proved inferior in quality. The main cause for the let-up in the "war business," however, is the fact that the allied countries have now sufficiently mobilized their industries to turn out their own arms, ammunitions and material.

'TIS FALSE

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., July 8.—Carranzistas learned that Calixto Contreras, and not Pancho Villa, is leading the band of bandits who defeated the Carranza forces at Corral ranch, in Chihuahua, and later occupied the town of Jimenez. Andres Garcia, Mexican consul at El Paso, asserted positively that there was everything to indicate that Villa was not present personally at the fight. He says prisoners captured by the Carranzistas had documentary proof that Contreras, a former Villa lieutenant, is the leader and that the prisoners claimed to know nothing of Villa.

One report by way of the Pershing base said Villa was dead and that his body had been cremated. Another story, brought here by an American from the south, says Villa is alive, though still compelled to walk with crutches and in no condition to ride a horse.

WAR DEPARTMENT ACTS

No Word Received Regarding Disqualified Companies of the Fifth Infantry—Adjutant General Hough Returns From Washington—Funds Available For National Guard Expenditures—Doings at Camp Willis.

Columbus, July 8.—Federal mustering officers at Camp Willis found four companies of engineering troops, while the war department wants only three from Ohio. This discrepancy may delay for several days or longer the work of mustering the engineers. The Ohio battalion of engineers for years has consisted of four companies, whereas United States army regulations prescribe three. It is now up to Major F. Fanning, Cleveland, commander of the battalion, to designate three companies to go to the border and leave one to return home.

Mayor Robert Mearns, chief mustering officer, received official information that the disqualified company of the Eighth Infantry, B of Akron, will be accepted by the war department. This will make it possible to muster in the Eighth completely, so that the motley clothed recruits can be equipped with uniforms and arms. As soon as this is done the Eighth will be ready for orders to move to the border.

No word has been received as to whether the disqualified companies of the Fifth Infantry, B, D and H, will be accepted. The other companies of this regiment have been ready for muster and physical examinations have been completed. Rejections in this regiment have averaged 12 per cent to the company, which is not quite as heavy as that of the Eighth. Rejected men of several more companies of the Eighth and one company of the Fifth, A of Berea, have gone home.

The squadron of cavalry is being examined physically today. Immediately after which the men can be equipped for service.

Adjutant General Hough returned today from Washington. He has learned that the appropriations from which expenditures for the Ohio national guard are to be paid are now available and all bills will be paid as soon as the official forms are completed. He also learned that the rank and relative standing of the various Ohio national guard officers will not be affected by muster into the federal service. When the emergency is over they will automatically resume their positions.

"Everything I have learned," said General Hough, "indicates that the Ohio troops will be sent to the border as soon as they are mustered in and are reasonably equipped for service."

General Hough added that if there is to be any real action in Mexico, he will resign his place with the state administration and go. "It will be up to me to find a place in the service, but I will find it," he declared.

STRANGE CASE

(By American Press)

Wooner, O., July 8.—Charged with kidnapping her own children, John and Lucille, Mrs. E. Emmel Geitz is in the county jail, having been arrested by Sheriff Miller at Cambridge and returned here. Her former husband, Henry Emmel of Marshallville, obtained a divorce and custody of the children last January, claiming his wife had eloped with another man. Sheriff Miller was informed by the woman that she had recently married Samuel Geitz, who provided a home for her and the two children at Cambridge. The children were whisked away from the Emmel home at Marshallville two weeks ago in an automobile. Mrs. Geitz will put up a fight to gain custody of the little ones.

CLAMPED DOWN

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., July 8.—America can not ship supplies to any other point in Mexico through the Juarez port to the United States troops at Casas Grandes, unless the partial embargo on war materials which is now in effect at this port is removed.

This ultimatum is said to have been delivered by the Carranza commanders in Juarez to the American army officers and officials and may cause the complete closing of the El Paso-Juarez port to all classes of shipments to Mexico.

The Mexicans have been permitted to ship foodstuffs and everything else but coal, ammunition, military stores and dynamite. American contractors who have been supplying the American troops at Colonia Dublan have been using the Mexico Northwestern railroad for the supply shipments. They have been notified that these shipments can no longer be made unless the port is opened to all classes of Mexican goods, regardless of whether they are for war or commerce. An added threat is that, unless this is done, no more shipments will be permitted to be made through Juarez to any American companies or individuals in Mexico.

A jump of three cents in the price of wheat occurred Saturday, when Chicago wheat reached $1.06½, or a jump of three cents over Friday's close. Locally the market was little changed.

Dealers predicted a sudden drop first of the week, and stated that the advance in price was due to the work of big speculators in Chicago.

LEESBURG CITIZEN ON BASEBALL MIXUP

The following article concerning the trouble occurring in the baseball game between Hillsboro and the Athletics of this city, is from the Leesburg Citizen:

"Hillsboro Base Ball Club crossed clubs with the Athletics of Washington C. H., Sunday, with a score of 7 to 3 favoring Hillsboro. Corwin and Grandle of Leesburg, played as usual and report an incident that is conceded by all who witnessed it, as an unfair treatment to the visitors.

"It seems that a dispute had arisen concerning a decision in which the umpire, Wilbur Swain, and Corwin became involved. The argument waxed warm and the "umps" becoming riled, struck Corwin in the face twice, Corwin realizing the futility of argument with the powers that be did not retaliate—to his credit.

"Upon his return home he was notified by Hillsboro authorities of a warrant for his arrest, filed by the umpire. He was taken to Hillsboro and given the maximum fine for disorderly conduct, which with costs amounted to over $18.00 which the Washington Club will have to stand.

"While it is not our habit to comment upon petty disputes, in this instance a far more manly spirit would have been displayed had they referred the matter to the police in the first place, had the umpire seen fit to eject a player from the game, and also if an arrest was necessary, to get him while in town and save uncalled for transportation fees."

DETAILS OF FATAL AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Concerning the accident which caused the death of Mr. F. R. Leist in Kingston, Thursday evening, the Chillicothe Gazette says in part,

"The impact hurled the automobile around and reduced it to a tangled mass of wreckage, while Leist was hurled sixty feet or more out of the auto and landed on his face alongside the tracks. He was picked up and hurried to the home of Mrs. Robert Blanchard, a sister, and Dr. Hatfield and two nurses were put in charge of the case. Later Dr. Joseph Leist of Columbus was called, but all they could do for him was without avail, for he never regained consciousness and at 11:45 p. m. he died.

"Upon examination it was found that Mr. Leist suffered from a skull fracture at the base of the brain, right shoulder dislocated and the right collar bone fractured."

SEVEN DIE IN STORM

Reports From Hurricane Swept Southland Show Big Loss of Life and Enormous Property Damage.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New Orleans, July 8.—At least seven persons lost their lives and property has been damaged to the extent of more than $1,000,000, according to reports today from the storm swept regions of Alabama and Mississippi.

Rains that assumed the proportions of cloudbursts followed the tropical hurricane in Alabama, causing serious flood conditions at Prattville and Birmingham, where creeks overflowed their banks and are now invading stores and factories.

The death list consists of one white man and six negroes.

The American schooner Mary G. Dantzer, the Norwegian schooner Anezia and an unidentified two-mast vessel were lost off Ship Island in the Gulf of Mexico, according to reports at gulf ports.

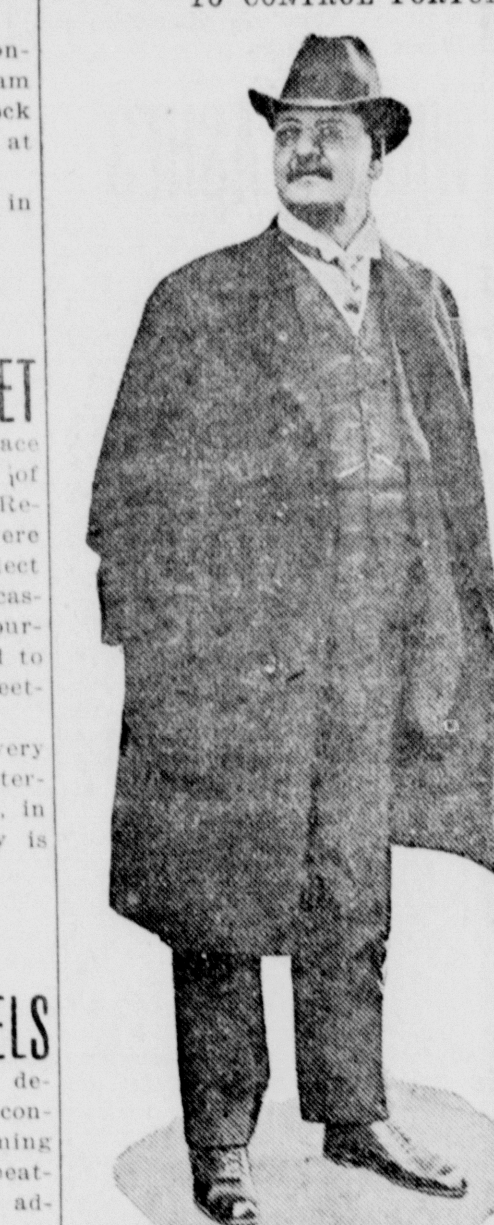

The crew of the Anezia was saved but no trace of the others has been found. Thirty-six men comprised the crews of the missing vessels.

Wire communication was restored with Mobile and Pensacola for a short time last night, and it was definitely established that no lives were lost at these places.

It was also developed that reports of loss of life at Beloit, Alabama, were incorrect.

Word comes from Washington that several vessels have been ordered to patrol the gulf coast in search of possible shipwrecks.

ORPET JURORS STUDY CHEMISTRY

Court's Time Occupied With Tales of Experts.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Waukegan, Ill., July 8.—The Orpet jury, referred to sometimes by certain members as a class in chemistry, listened today to further questions and answers appertaining to the subject of cyanide of potassium, with which poison Will H. Orpet, the collegian, is alleged to have murdered Marian Lambert.

The first witness was Dr. Ralph W. Webster, a toxicologist, called in rebuttal by the State.

"You testified in direct examination that Marian Lambert died of liquid cyanide of potassium. Have you changed your opinion since?" asked Attorney Potter.

"I have not," answered Dr. Webster.

Fred I. Wenban, the undertaker, who cared for Marian's body and was the first, according to testimony, to detect the spots on Marian's cloak, was the next witness.

The insinuations of the defense that spots alleged to have been made by cyanide were placed there by some one interested in the prosecution formed the reason for the undertaker's recall.

"Did you put those spots there?" asked State's Attorney Ralph J. Dady.

"I did not," replied Mr. Wenban.

Lecturer Is Making Golden Rule Work

GLENN FRANK.

Of recent years there has sprung up a new school of enthusiasts, however, who are not content to believe that such an altogether admirable working rule for personal conduct should be allowed to rest there, but that the Golden Rule is equally applicable to business and that some practical method of putting it into operation there should be outlined.

These representatives of the new school of sociology have found the platform the natural channel for the propagation of their modern ideas.

They have been pioneers in thought provoking and have done much in promoting better relations between men in business.

Of those who have attracted conspicuous attention by the saneness and helpfulness of their spoken messages Glenn Frank stands in the forefront. His work for Northwestern University and in the Lyceum and Chautauqua fields has made him a marked man. Recently he was invited by Edward A. Filene of Boston to associate with him in sociological research work and has been doing excellent labor in that field. Mr. Frank belongs to the platform, however, and will this summer return to the Coit-Alber Circuit Chautauquas, where he made such a profound impression two years ago, and will be heard in a new lecture, entitled "Resetting the World Stage."

No man on the American platform has a more constructive message than Glenn Frank. He voices the modern viewpoint with the sincerity of a prophet.

In this lecture Mr. Frank will attempt, by careful arguing from cause to effect, to sketch the probable situation after the great continental war closes—the situation as it will affect American business and American democracy—and to suggest certain desirable American policies.

(By Associated Press Cable)

London, July 8.—With the aid of innumerable guns and waves of infantry, the British army continues to make slow progress in its efforts to bring the front line between the Acre and Montauban on a level with the French line further south, the French having pushed further ahead than their allies.

This effort on the part of the British has led to most furious fighting in which the British troops have been engaged.

The flower of the German army has been brought forward to oppose them, and guns and ammunition are being used lavishly.

According to reports from Holland, Belgium has been denuded of German soldiers to meet the Anglo-French offensive, and the railway stations even in the larger towns are now guarded by the older reservists.

Notwithstanding the enormous call of German reserves for the battle in Picardy, the German Crown Prince has resumed the offensive at Verdun, and yesterday made further repeated attacks near Thiaumont without much success.

In the east, things are moving more rapidly. The Russians are making progress in their drive against the important railway junctions at Delatyn, in Galicia; Kovel, in Volhynia, and Baranovich, north of the Pripiet Marshes.

In Galicia and Volhynia, the Teutons admit the withdrawal of their lines.

It is reported that Delatyn is surrounded on three sides, and the Russians, having cut the easternmost lines of retreat across the Carpathians, are on the flank of the Austrians' new defensive line running through Stanislaw and Halicz.

Advancing all along the line of the Lutsik salient, the Russians are now threatening Kovel from three points.

Capture of prisoners continues, and according to Russian estimates the total for a month's fighting is not far short of a quarter of a million.

Municipal Officers
Advised.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Columbus, O., July 8.—To forestall an infantile paralysis epidemic in Ohio, the State Board of Health has sent notices to all municipal and township health officers advising them to take immediate precautionary measures against the disease.

Among the instructions are these: That all infantile paralysis patients be isolated; that the rooms they occupy be screened to prevent insects from entering and subsequently spreading the disease; that sputum and nasal secretions be destroyed by fire or disinfectants, and that children in afflicted families be absolutely quarantined.

For the present only, a modified quarantine is being kept placed upon adults in such families.

Summer resorts especially will be kept under close observation and regulation.

Motion picture houses and Sunday schools will be closed to children if the situation becomes menacing, but not until that time.

There are two more additional cases reported in Ohio today. The total number afflicted is given at five.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

San Antonio, Texas, July 8.—For more than 200 miles eastward from El Paso, American troops were being held in readiness today to move to any point on the border that might be threatened by the newly organized bandits in Chihuahua.

Early morning reports to General Funston added nothing, however, to the rumors of yesterday, most important of which was the warning from the de facto Government of Mexico that bandits who defeated Carranza soldiers near Jimenez were believed to be moving northward toward Ojinago, opposite Presidio, Texas.

Colonel Gaston, commanding the American forces in the Big Bend district, was authorized by General Funston to make such disposition of his troops as he deemed wise to prevent the bandits crossing the river.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Camp Willis, Columbus, July 8.—El Paso will be the destination of the Ohio troops when they are moved toward the border.

This became evident today with the announcement of the train schedules for the movement of the troops south.

The Pennsylvania, Hocking Valley, Toledo & Ohio Central and Baltimore & Ohio railroads will each carry one regiment. The Big Four will take two. Each regiment will go in three sections.

It is planned to transport the Ohio troops in Pullmans, arrangements for which already are practically completed.

Each regiment will leave Camp Willis with ten days' rations and will be given another six days' rations on arrival at El Paso.

Each company will be assigned half a baggage car for its rations and kitchen equipment.

The Eighth will be the first regiment to be fully equipped by the federal officers.

They will be given their full equipment tomorrow.

Tomorrow promises to be the big day in camp. Excursions will be run to Columbus from all parts of the state, and thousands of friends and relatives of the soldier boys are expected to visit the camp.

Enlightenment on many questions arising in mustering the guards into federal service was obtained today when Adjutant General Hough returned from Washington, prepared to take up all complications.

As a result of Adjutant General Hough's trip, the formality of federalizing the Ohio troops will be materially expedited.

Officials Believe Border Cantonment Plan Will Be Urged in Mexico.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

Washington, July 8.—Word of General Carranza's decision as to the form of diplomatic negotiations for the settlement of border difficulties should take was today expected at the State Department.

No advice reached the Mexican Embassy on this point early in the day, however.

It is thought probable that the de facto Government will utilize Eliseo Arredondo, Ambassador designate, to talk matters over informally with Acting Secretary Polk.

The general form of an agreement could be framed in this way and later formally ratified.

The Washington Government has indicated a desire for quick action in reaching a conclusion; and since General Carranza is understood to hold the same views, there is reason to suppose the conferences will be in progress next week.

Officials anticipate that the Carranza Government will again offer the border cantonment plan, which first was presented at the El Paso conference between Major General Scott and the Mexican War Minister, General Obregon.

It was rejected at that time because immediate withdrawal of General Pershing's men from Mexico was stipulated by General Obregon as a condition.

If it is renewed without that stipulation, it appears likely it will prove acceptable.

forces expect today to give battle to the Villa bandits who raided Jimenez, Chihuahua, according to a report received by General Gonzales, in Juarez, from General Trevino, commanding the army of the north.

The message said that 1,200 cavalrymen under General Arrieta, supported by 800 infantry, had overtaken the bandits at Las Nevas, south of Jimenez, about 2 o'clock this morning.

General Arrieta wired General Trevino that he intended to attack at daybreak. No further word has been received.

GREAT LOSSES ANTICIPATED

By Associated Press Dispatch.
New York, July 8.—The "big push" which the British and French have at last attempted along the northern portion of the German line has been viewed by at least some of the officers in the British trenches as likely to entail a sacrifice of life "that no general will be prepared to face," according to a captain whose letter from the British front written, just before the big forward movement began, gives some interesting light on the present psychology of the men in the trenches. Ralph L. Shaniwald, a New York manufacturer, makes public the letter, without disclosing the identity of the captain who wrote it.

"We talked of a 'big push' when I was in London," says the officer. "It may be attempted, and I may be in it, but the sacrifice of life will be something that in my humble opinion, no general will be prepared to face. Only those who have had some experience of trench warfare can appreciate the stupendous difficulties of a great forward movement, with its attendant wholesale slaughter of the very blood that England requires most. No: in my opinion, valueless though it be, our policy must be one of attrition—of wearing out the enemy—a policy that I fully recognize, however, may mean the bankruptcy of the civilized world. Verdun is doubtless the last great effort of a desperate and wonderfully organized military nation, but its failure in that quarter will not render the task of overthrowing its well-handled masses of troops very much easier, under trench circumstance."

In other parts of his letter, the British captain frankly discloses what he thinks of war:

"Between you and me," he says "war is the most damnable, stupid, nonsensical thing that was ever invented for settling disputes, and is carried on by brainless, well-meaning men, that you wouldn't give the office boy's job to. Incompetence, inefficiency, and pluck; effrontery, interference, red tape and ability, are all mixed up together out here, in a manner that would drive a business man like you crazy."

"I have no intention of wearying you with tales of 'hurtling' shells, and the deafening roar of cannon, making your blood run cold with stories of the sights that disgust you and yet fill you with deep sympathy of shocks and hairbreadth escapes; of tales of valour, and of trembling knees; of the brave British officer shaving under shell fire (although I have done that stunt many a morning, without cutting myself); of shots that pierced the tunic to be deflected finally by the small bible presented by the blue and, brown eyed maiden of Bloomsbury Square; of the bullying officer being saved by the fresh-faced youngster fulfilling a 'noble revenge'."

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS GIVEN

Following summary of the weather and crop conditions in the United States and state of Ohio, is from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and is of more than passing interest:

Summary of weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat region for the week ending July 4, 1916.—The week was much warmer in the central states and corn made satisfactory growth, although generally still backward. Much needed cultivation was carried on. Corn is tasseling in South Carolina, earing well in Arkansas and maturing Texas. Winter wheat harvest progressed well in the central part of the country. The weather was favorable in the North for spring wheat, rye, barley, flax, oats, pastures meadows, potatoes and most fruit. Some oats rust is reported in the Ohio Valley. Rye and barley are ripening in the central districts. Sugar beets are growing slowly in the extreme North, but are improved in Colorado and Oregon. Tobacco harvest is under way in the South and setting is completed in Wisconsin. The plants are growing well in central and northern districts. Cotton has been favorably affected by the weather. Cattle ranges are suffering for rain in central and lower Rocky Mountain and Plateau states.

Summary of weather and crop conditions in Ohio.—The weather during the past week was unusually fine for all agricultural interests and farming operations of all kinds were pushed and are now well advanced. Corn is still backward but having received a thorough cultivation is now growing rapidly. The harvesting of winter wheat is progressing successfully in southern and central sections, and winter wheat is ripening and spring wheat and oats are heading in northern counties. There is some complaint of rust and weeds in the oats; also of fruit dropping in few localities. Haying is now active with highly satisfactory results. Potatoes, pastures and fruits generally, are doing well.

Mr. Can't Afford, Attention!

OCCASIONALLY the Chautauqua Committee finds a man who says he can't afford to attend the Chautauqua. This advertisement is addressed to him.

When a man's house needs painting he paints it. It isn't a question of whether he can afford to paint just then. He borrows the money, if need be, to paint, for he knows he can't afford not to paint.

When a man is sick he gets the doctor. Even if his bank account is as sick as he is, he knows he can't afford not to have the doctor, even though he think he can't afford to have him.

Day after day you stick to your job, wearing your brain thin with the ever-recurring monotony of labor. Your brain is your best servant. It needs repairs just as much as the house you live in needs paint. It gets sick just as much as your physical body gets sick. It gets tired, run down, dispirited.

The Chautauqua will do more to tone up and put in running order your tired brain than a week at the seashore. It will plant new thoughts, stir new energies, awaken new inspiration. It will soothe with great music, rest with choice entertainment.

The two dollars spent for a Chautauqua ticket isn't an expenditure—it's an investment. It brings returns as surely as a government bond. You tackle your job with renewed energy after you've been in attendance at the Chautauqua. Your increased horse-power soon returns the two dollars ten-fold.

And the folks at home need the vacation, too. Mrs. Can't Afford gets just as run-down as you do. Try the season ticket panacea on her. She'll be a new woman when she comes home from the Chautauqua. She'll go singing about her work, like a woman ought to do.

The Can't Afford children need the Junior Chautauqua, too. A dollar takes care of them, and they'll have the time of their lives.

Can't afford the Chautauqua! Why, man, you can't afford to do without it. Fourteen sessions for two dollars. Fourteen cents a session. You can save it every day by cutting down on the little luxuries—and it will pay a thousand per cent dividend in increased efficiency.

Get that season ticket today!

Resourcefulness in War

The new plan of warfare adopted on the western front by the British and French has rendered the extensive and elaborate trench defenses of the Germans practically valueless.

In the great German advance in the early stages of the war the "impregnable" fortresses of the French and Belgians were reduced to mere heaps of scrap iron and powder, in a flash by the enormous German siege guns.

Then followed the perfecting of trench defenses by the Germans who, it seems now, erred in supposing that they had exceeded the ingenuity of man.

The British and French have singled out the first line trench defenses and by maintaining a merciless fire to the rear have cut off the first line troops from all relief from the rear. In that manner the holders of the first line are starved into such a weakened condition that their ability to resist the charge is practically nil.

Each line of trenches and each army of trench defenders in turn falls victim to the attacking forces.

The loss of life in this method of attack is less to both the forces engaged than it was under the straight away assaults in massed formation.

East and west the offensive of the allies has been crowned with important success and that Germany is stunned by the violence and the immensity of the concerted attack admits of no doubt.

If the allies can maintain the rate of advance thus far made and force the Germans to retreat beyond their innermost line of entrenchments—force the armies of the Kaiser into the open field—then the end of the war cannot be far in the future.

Man's ingenuity in warfare as in peace is limitless. It never has been rendered valueless by any man-made creation and never will be. If the allied advance is compelled to halt before the Germans are forced to fight in the open field man's resourcefulness may once again turn the tide.

The Shade Trees

At this time when so many blocks of Washington streets are being improved with asphalt, brick or cement and the city so substantially improved, and beautified too, it is well to give a thought to the shade trees.

Time was not many years ago when Washington was wealthy in the quantity and quality of shade trees which lined her streets. Two or three crusades of street grading and street improving, however, have wrought sad havoc with the trees.

Some of our public spirited progressive organizations either those composed of men or women could do a great public service by calling the attention of the railroad companies to the long expanse of blazing hot sunny stretches which could be done away with with very little trouble and expense. The chances are the railroads and other corporations holding a long frontage on the newly paved streets would be glad to comply with a request to plant trees. If they failed the organizations might chip in and beautify the sunny, barren places.

With our beautifully paved avenues and streets the planting of shade trees, with some plan of regularity would produce marvelously gratifying results.

Vacation Time Visits

From this time on until the close of vacation days almost every train arriving in and departing from the smaller cities and hamlets of the rural sections leaves or takes aboard its precious bit of human freight in the shape of some happy, bright-eyed little boy or girl who's "goin' visitin'."

Those are the big events of a life—they are the days that are never forgotten. There is no time in the short span of life that lies behind nor the long stretch of years which is ahead, no matter how eventful the future life may be, that is quite so important as the trip to grandma's home in some distant town.

As a matter of course, following the inexorable rule which makes no exception for young or old, there is some bitterness mixed with the sweet. There are the lonesome times at twilight when the crickets sing so loud and when the whip-poor-will cries more plaintively than he ever did at home—there's the awful homesickness and other sorrows which seem unbearable at night but which vanish with the rising sun and the beginning of another day of pleasure.

As we grow older and see the little folks starting out on their journeys we wonder if they have as good a time as in the old days, whether it is really as far away now days to grandma's as it "used to be."

Consideration is assuring. The events of childhood are important today as they ever were. The coming of the automobile and the increase in railroads may have changed conditions under which the visits of childhood are made but it has not reduced the importance of "the event."

Poetry For Today

THE OLD FLAG TO-DAY.

Oh, mornin' to the old flag, the old flag to-day,
The flag that lifts its colors o'er our heads along the way.
The flag that speaks of freedom,
And that cheers us at our dream
With the memories that it freshens
With the beauty of its gleam!

Mornin' to the old flag, and many a cheer again
To the banner in its beauty as it waves above our men.
The flag that holds us fashioned
In the unity that counts
As we climb through trial and duty
As the golden nation mounts!

Oh, mornin' to the old flag that's bobbin' in the breeze,
Its stars and stripes so lovely through the green boughs of the trees!
The flag that finds us ready
To follow and to die
Where'er its folds are wavin'
And where'er its ribbons fly!
—Baltimore Sun.

Secrecy in Parliament.

Heavy penalties are inflicted for the revelation of parliamentary secret session or cabinet decisions, but they cannot well be heavier than those which the parliament of Henry VII. inflicted for a similar offense. One member of the house of commons was foolish enough to tell the king himself what the commons had been debating. He was sent to the tower, and a special act of parliament was passed by which he and his posterity were barred from sitting in the house of commons as the "representative of any place whatever." In the days of Queen Elizabeth a certain Mr. Hall, M. P., was found guilty of revealing the debates in the commons. He was expelled from the house, sent to the Tower for six months and fined £500—a considerable fortune in those days.—London Spectator.

Dark Nebulae.

A new astronomical belief is that there are not only dark stars in space, but dark nebulae. The dark stars are invisible, revealing themselves only by their effect on the motion or light of bright stars, but dark nebulae may be visible as unlighted masses showing against the feebly luminous background of space. Professor E. E. Barnard notes that many striking dark patches of sky hitherto supposed to be simply starless regions may be really dark nebulae. The case of Hind's nebula in Taurus, which is now feebly visible after completely fading away from a state of conspicuous brilliancy shows that a nebula may lose its light, and perhaps many have never had any light.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Columbus, July 8.—"I can't stand this any longer. Notify my father, John Houser of Upper Sandusky. Please bury me in these clothes," read a note written by Miss Flora Houser, twenty-two, of Upper Sandusky, who committed suicide at a local hotel by taking carbolic acid. She was in poor health.

Extortioner Failed to Appear.

Findlay, O., July 8.—Hancock county officials are looking for the writer of a Black Hand letter to John Tawney, a wealthy farmer, who was told to deposit $1,000 in a designated place, under penalty of having his house burned down if the money was not given over. The authorities placed a decoy package on the spot and awaited the arrival of the writer, who failed to appear.

America's Most Famous Woman Publicist to Be Heard Here

WHEN the Chautauqua brings to our city attractions of such commanding merit as Ida M. Tarbell, associate editor of the American Magazine, perhaps the most noted woman publicist of the world, it demonstrates anew its right to be classed with the great educational influences of America. Miss Tarbell needs no introduction. Her works have preceded her and endeared her to the thinking people of this country. A forceful writer, a constructive thinker, a seer of visions and encies were not corrected. She believed and she had courage to express her convictions that no true democracy could exist where an autocracy of wealth held individual endeavor at bay. Strangely enough, for once a prophet has received honor in his own country, and Miss Tarbell is today recognized as a foremost exponent of the propaganda of business justice which is remaking America. In her lecture on "Industrial Idealism," which she will deliver at the

CASES OF INTEREST TURN UP IN COURT OF JUSTICE

Two Women Charged With Sale of Morphine and One Is Held to Grand Jury—Arrests Made When State Inspectors Visit Country Stores—Man Is Bound Over for Obstructing Highway.

Justice of the Peace of Jasper township, John D. McMahan, is having a number of cases of more than ordinary interest, and two of these grow out of charges filed by State Inspectors who caused the arrest of two women on the James-town pike, on charges of selling morphine—an offense which is a most serious one under the new law.

Mrs. Hanna Gilmore, of West Lancaster, is one of the women, and her case has been adjourned until Tuesday, July 18th, when she will appear before Justice McMahan to answer to charges of selling, bartering, giving away and having morphine in her possession. The charge was filed by Lee J. Dumm, State Inspector, who worked for sometime on the case before causing the woman's arrest.

In connection with the case it is announced that the names of others in the county and in Sabina were mentioned as having sold morphine to the woman's husband. Whether other arrests will be made remains to be seen, but for the present the inspectors will allow matters to rest until the charges against the woman are disposed of.

The second charge was filed by Inspector E. B. Barnes, and is against Mrs. N. L. Carr. The affidavit charges that the offense was committed June 2nd. In the case of Mrs. Carr she entered a plea of not guilty, waived examination and was held to the grand jury under $200 bond, which was furnished.

It is claimed that the inspectors, while working on the other morphine case, stopped at the Carr store and saw morphine on a shelf. It is further claimed that when they inquired concerning the morphine, they were informed by the defendant that she had had the drug there for sometime, and had thought of destroying it. The inspectors, it is asserted, made an offer to purchase the drug and this, according to one of the men, was accepted and they made the purchase accordingly.

The result of both cases will be watched with a great deal of interest.

Another case in Justice McMahan's court is that of A. M. Hidy, charged by L. B. Sanderson with obstructing the highway in West Lancaster by allowing some old machinery to block the thoroughfare. He was held to the grand jury under $100 bond.

MANY CHANGES TO BE MADE IN MELVIN BLOCK

New Front Being Installed in Business Room Occupied by Glicksman Store and Second Floor of Entire Block Is to Be Modernized for Offices.

Extensive improvements in the Commercial Bank Block, owned by Geo. Melvin of Columbus, are now under way, and when completed the block will present a very different appearance insofar as the Glicksman room and the second story are concerned.

The old style front of the Glicksman store is now being removed and will be supplanted by a thoroughly modern front, with attractive display window and plate glass paneled door. Other changes will be made in the room to make it more attractive and modern.

The old stairway between the Glicksman store and that of H. C. Anthoni will be torn out and a wider stairway constructed. The course of the stairway is to be altered somewhat after the stairs ascend some twelve feet, so that the office rooms may be of easier access.

The office rooms themselves, of which there are several in the building, will be greatly changed, and so arranged that they will be really desirable, comfortable and attractive.

The expense to Mr. Melvin will be somewhat heavy, but the results are expected to be correspondingly satisfactory.

J. A. TWAY DIES EARLY SATURDAY

Death Comes During Sleep and Following Illness of Heart Trouble—Was Superintendent of County Children's Home 8 Years and Man of Many Sterling Qualities.

Following a critical illness of three weeks due to valvular heart trouble, at the age of 58 years, Mr. J. Austin Tway, former Superintendent of the Children's Home, and widely known Fayette countian, answered the eternal summons at his country home on the Staunton pike, in the early dawn of Saturday morning.

In the death of Mr. Tway this county loses not alone one of her progressive farmers and influential citizens; she loses also one of the sterling men of the community, a fine type of Christian gentleman, possessing a genial and kindly personality and a nature which expended itself in helpfulness for others. He was a man who stood for the best things of the community and the community can ill afford to lose him.

"Aus" Tway, as he was best known in the upper part of the county, belonged to one of the pioneer families of Paint township and his family connection is extensive. He was the son of the late John Tway and his wife belonged to the well known Badger family of Madison county, so that his death touches circles by no means merely local.

Two daughters, Mrs. H. D. Parrett of Del Norte, Colo., and Miss Elsa Tway, mourn with their mother a most devoted husband and father, so survive.

Two brothers, Mr. John Tway, Jr. of Paint township, and Mr. Manfred Tway of Madison county, and one sister, Mrs. William Durlinger, also survive.

Mr. Tway was one of the successful school teachers of the county as well as a prominent farmer, until he was elected Superintendent of the Children's Home in 1905. This position he filled with the same capability which had characterized all his other affairs and both he and his wife, matron of the institution, gave conscientious attention to the welfare of their charges, as well as to the other interests of the Home.

Mr. Tway had been one of the standbys of the M. E. church of Union Chapel and in his removal to the Staunton neighborhood was equally active in the Staunton M. E. church and Superintendent of the Sunday school at the time of his death.

He was also a prominent member and officer of Garfield Commandery No. 28, until his health began to fail.

The great sorrow which has come to the Tway home is widely shared and the utmost sympathy goes out to the bereaved family.

Funeral services will be held at Staunton M. E. church Monday at 10 a. m. Burial will be made in the family lot in the Bloomingburg cemetery.

TRIES SUICIDE, IS MAIMED FOR LIFE

Otto Burton, Highland County youth, tried suicide a day or two ago, but in pulling the trigger of a shot gun which he had placed in his mouth, the gun was turned aside and the charge carried away the young man's nose and part of his face, leaving him maimed for life.

Attending physicians predict an early recovery for the youth.

WATER CUT OFF CITIZENS AROUSED

Citizens' Ire Aroused When Water Supply Is Cut Off Without Proper Warning, and for Purpose of Making Repair on One Main—Council Urged to Act Without Delay.

Probably no event occurring in this city in recent months has caused the inconvenience and brought forth greater storms of protest than the action of the Washington Water Company, Saturday forenoon, cutting off the water supply of the city, without previous notice to consumers, while repairs were being made upon a hydrant on Washington avenue.

Notice had been given to Mayor Oster by a member of the firm that water would be turned off at eight o'clock Friday morning, and this information was given out accordingly by Mayor Oster.

However when Friday morning came the Water Company did not proceed with the repairs as previously announced, and the mains were not molested.

Saturday morning, when everyone was without knowledge of what was coming, the water was cut off for some two hours while repairs were under way, but contrary to the orders of Mayor Oster who had informed the company that the water must not be turned off throughout the city, but in the zone where the repairs were being made, the water was turned off throughout the business district, and so far as known, throughout most of the residence district.

Protests arose in abundance, and many prominent citizens declared procedure nothing short of an outrage, and stated that they will urge the city council immediately to take steps to prevent a recurrence of the inconvenience, discomforts and dangers due to no water in the mains.

One prominent citizen stated that if the Water Company has no valves with which to cut off the water in a limited area, that steps should be taken to force installation of the valves, and if valves existed and were not in working order, as rumored, that the company should be forced to place them in proper condition.

Several of the consumers whose business depends largely upon constant and abundant water supply mention the great inconvenience and damage suffered in loss of trade and inability to conduct their work.

Still another citizen who was very much wrought up over what he declared was an uncalled for act upon the part of the Water Company, states that in addition to the inconvenience caused by cutting off the water in nearly all mains, that such an act riles the water so that it is hardly in condition to be used for sometime after the water is turned on.

City officials are being urged upon all sides to take whatever action is necessary to prevent the cutting off of the water supply, not alone for the inconvenience suffered by consumers, but because of the ever present fire dangers.

BIG PLANS FOR STATE HORSE SHOW

Mr. Howard Allen has been in Columbus the past few days, in the interest of the big State Horse Show which will be an interesting feature of the State Fair, and of which Mr. Allen is manager.

Mr. Allen is not permitting any delay in the arrangements and by placing his shoulder to the wheel early is obtaining most satisfactory results.

Four of the largest stables of horses in Ohio have been listed for the show, including the big stable of John L. Bushnell, of Springfield, who has never exhibited at a show in Ohio, with the exception of the Springfield show.

In the five gaited Saddle Horse class $600 in prizes will be given. In the three gaited saddle horse class $600 will be given, and in the Ohio Owned saddle horse class $300 will be awarded.

Mr. Allen reports most satisfactory prospects for the show, and it is believed it will be the greatest ever conducted in the state.

MANY WITNESSES IN ASSAULT CASE

The accused men in the case wherein Ruth Maag was recently attacked, are preparing to fight the charges, and to that end are giving the names of a large number of persons desired for witnesses. It is understood the witnesses for the accused alone will reach above the 50 mark.

While arrangements are being made to hold the trial Monday, it is extremely doubtful if the injured girl will be able to appear in court at that time, as she is still in an extremely nervous condition and will require sometime to recover.

STUTSON PICNIC IN PROCTOR WOOD ENJOYABLE EVENT

Forty five Folks Who Are Connected With Department Store Have Picnic Supper in the Country.

Picture Shows and Entertainment in the City Following the Evening in the Outdoors.

One of the jolliest picnic suppers imaginable was enjoyed by the clerks of the Stutson department store on the Proctor farm, Friday evening. The whole force turned out, forty-five being seated for the picnic spread.

It certainly was some supper—fried chicken, home made cakes, great piles of all kinds of sandwiches, brick ice cream, with many other delicacies and all the lemonade possible to drink, topped off with candy and knick knacks.

The beautiful wooded knoll overlooking the winding brook, provided an ideal place for the picnic and adding the final touch to the evening's pleasure was the perfect July night, with the brilliant sunset turning the western sky rosy, while the crescent moon rose slowly in the east.

It was the first outing of this kind engaged in by the store, but its unmitigated success makes it a foregone conclusion that it will not be the last.

The picnic was given in honor of Miss Carrie Craig and Miss Grace Wally. Mrs. W. B. Hershey in a happy little speech announced the engagement of Miss Carrie Craig, for a number of years the efficient cashier of the Stutson store, to Mr. C. K. Knight, of Philadelphia, instructor in the Wharton School of Commerce and Finance of Pennsylvania.

The engagement will elicit the best wishes of the many friends of Miss Craig. The wedding takes place in the fall.

Mrs. Hershey also expressed the regret of the store in losing Miss Wally from the ready-to-wear department. She is returning to her home in Bainbridge.

After informal toasts to the honor guests the party left the supper table to enjoy the beautiful sport for a short time before the big crowd piled into autos for the moonlight drive home.

Mr. Stutson had presented each one present with passes to any of the picture theaters of the city and the entire crowd—regardless of its numbers—visited the shows en masse, thoroughly appreciating the courtesy of their employer in the evening's pleasurable climax.

CLERK-CARRIER EXAM. BEING HELD TODAY

A Civil Service examination for clerks and carriers, to fill vacancies and have on the eligible list for the Washington post office, was held in Memorial Hall Saturday, with six applicants trying the examination. It will be several weeks before the result of the examination is known.

In Social Circles

The girls of Mrs. Ada Jones' Sunday school class, the "C. I. C." held their monthly meeting and annual picnic at the home of Mrs. S. F. DeWees, Friday afternoon; Mrs. DeWees' daughter, Miss Helen, being one of the class.

It was one of the most delightful affairs in which the class has participated. The large lawn, abloom with summer flowers and having an immense flower bed of old fashioned flowers extremely pretty, was a most inviting place on a warm summer afternoon.

A short program was given including a piano duet by Miss Blanche Sark, of Blancheater, and Miss Opal Stanforth, piano solo, Miss Eleanor McLean and paper, "Barnabas," Miss Helen DeWees.

After the program the girls crowned their president, Miss Eleanor McLean, with a wreath of flowers as they grouped around her and had a picture taken of the pretty scene.

After contests, tennis and a general good time there was a sumptuous picnic feast.

The only thing which marred the pleasure of the occasion was the unavoidable absence of the teacher, Mrs. Jones. Mrs. William Craig, a former teacher, was an honor guest and Miss Sark of Blancheater, Clara DeWees and Little Leontine Staubs guests.

The girls of the class are Eleanor McClain, Nelle Cissna, Opal Stanforth, Elizabeth Hendryx, Dorothy Dill, Mildred Taylor, Lucile Bush, Mildred Wolfe, Lucy Garringer, Elsie Foreman, Helen DeWees, Marcella Griffith.

Among the attractive little social affairs of the week was a pretty party given by Miss Opal Stanforth in compliment to her guest, Miss Blanche Sark, of Blancheater.

Ten intimate girl friends enjoyed music, contests and various diversions.

Mrs. C. A. Stanforth assisted her daughter in serving a dainty lunch.

Mrs. M. E. Hitchcock and Mrs. Maude Howland, of Bloomingburg, gave a charming dinner of ten covers Friday evening, in compliment to Mrs. Fred Sprenger of Marion, Ills., at the Hitchcock home.

An elaborate menu of five courses was served and nasturtiums artistically used in decoration.

Seated with the hostesses and Mrs. Sprenger were Mesdames Austin P. Hopkins, Frank S. Jackson, Jesse Persinger, Arthur Burgett, Edgar Snyder, Fred Woollard, Miss Mazie Kessler.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryson entertained Friday with a delightful dinner in honor of visiting relatives. Green and white were prettily used in decoration.

The guests were Dr. Ed Bryson, daughters Miss Gladys, Mrs. Goldie Stockdale and daughter Shirah of Detroit, Mich.; Dr. Will Bryson, children, Miss Alice, William and Ercil of Everett, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Thompson, Miss Gladys and Robert Turnipseed, this city.

Mrs. Homer Garrett gave a pretty little party at her country home, the Worthington homestead, Friday afternoon for her young son, Loren.

A dozen children spent a very nappy afternoon in play on the big lawn with its fine old trees, and a refreshing luncheon was served.

Mrs. Ella Courts returned Friday afternoon from a ten days' visit with Miss Letty Downs, in Columbus.

Judge Clinton Badger has been called from Columbus to the home of his sister, Mrs. J. Austin Tway, by the death of Mr. Tway.

Mrs. J. R. Marshall and son, Mr. Maurice Marshall of Pittsburg, visited Dr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson in South Solon, Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Post and daughter Marjorie arrived from Lebanon Friday to visit Mrs. Post's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Green.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rothrock leave Monday for Indian Lake, to spend a couple of weeks with their daughter, Mrs. Charles Bell, at the Bell's summer cottage.

Villa Bandits Now Headed For the Border.

CARRANZA FORWARDS TIP

Suggests That the American Troops Exercise Particular Vigilance in the Stretch of Border Between Boquillas and Ojinaga and Promises His Own Forces Will Make Every Effort to Run Down the Outlaws.

Washington, July 8.—The first move in a campaign of co-operation against bandits threatening the American border was suggested by the de facto government of Mexico. First Chief Carranza, through Ambassador Designate Arredondo, notified the state department that a de facto government force had been destroyed by a large band of Villa followers at Carrizito, Chihuahua, on Wednesday. Carranza expressed the fear that this band had proceeded northward through the desert and might concentrate near the border for a raid into United States territory. He suggested that the American troops on the border exercise particular vigilance in the stretch of border line between Boquillas and Ojinaga and promised that meanwhile every effort would be made by his own forces to pursue and capture the bandits.

The dispatch containing the warning was at once turned over to Secretary of War Baker by the state department and telegraphed to General Funston's headquarters, and officials here expressed the belief that the Villa band will meet with a warm reception if it attempts to cross the line.

The presumed line of march which the band has taken was within striking distance of any of the troops of General Pershing's expeditionary force. It is over rough country and through desert regions, where Carranza himself has practically no troops. The danger, it is explained, will come from a possible sudden concentration of the band near some selected point on the border for a sudden incursion over the line.

General Funston's most difficult problem will be to ascertain in advance at what point the raiders are making for and thereby be able to concentrate a sufficient force to meet them. Army officers here say that General Funston may find the use of his aeroplanes of inestimable value in locating the band on its approach.

The note which President Wilson directed to be dispatched to Carranza expressed gratification over the conciliatory attitude of the de facto government and promised hearty co-operation without going into details as to the methods to be employed in endeavoring to reach an adjustment of the matters in dispute.

The first move toward definite discussion of the various phases of the controversy is expected to come from Mexico. Carranza is expected to reply to the American note, but before doing so he will get reports from Mr. Arredondo, who will informally discuss the situation with Counselor Polla, who during Secretary Lansing's absence will be in charge of the state department. These conferences are expected to develop some tangible basis of diplomatic negotiation relative to the new Mexican questions, the effective patrol of the border and the withdrawal of General Pershing's expeditionary force from Mexico.

COMING HERE

(By American Press)

Stockholm, July 8.—Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked of San Francisco and Miss Emily Balch of Wellesley college, American delegates to the neutral conference for continuous mediation, which is the outgrowth of Henry Ford's peace expedition and has been sitting in Stockholm, sailed for home on the Frederick VIII to consult with Mr. Ford regarding further work for peace.

Several proposals concerning the future activities of the conference have been discussed here, but the delegates think the final decision should be made by Mr. Ford. One suggestion is to combine the conference with the peace forces recently organized in the United States. Miss Balch has the particular mission to consult with these agencies and explained the more recent work of the Stockholm conference.

GAINS MADE IN GALICIA

London Reports Further British Successes On the Somme—Halt Noted In the French Drive—Germans Recover Portion of Lost Ground—Italians Hammering the Austrian Lines. Review of Day's Operations.

London, July 8.—The Russian armies operating in southeastern Galicia are now within ten miles of both Stanislaw and Nadvorna, and are pressing their advance westward, despite increasingly stubborn Austrian resistance. The Austrian force that evacuated Mikuliczyn, giving the Russians command of an important railway, are now retreating southward along the Carpathian mountains.

The Russians have extended their offensive on an unprecedented scale. On the whole front from Riga to Baronovichi, a distance of about 300 miles, the Russians are being hurled against the German lines.

The Italians claim continued progress for their offensive in the Trentino district, but apparently there has been no great change in this field of the war.

The British forces resumed their offensive from the Ancre brook to where their lines join the French, and the battle of the Somme entered into its second phase. Violent fighting raged throughout the day. The new British onslaught was met by furious counter attacks on the part of the Germans, who had used the last three days' lull on that front for bringing up reinforcements. The net result of the combat was that the British had broken into the German trenches east of La Boisselle on a width of 1,000 yards, while the Germans succeeded in regaining 200 or 300 yards of lost ground northwest of Thiepval, according to the British official statement.

The French made no infantry attacks on either side of the Somme. General Foch is marking time, waiting for British to bring up their line sufficiently to have it conform with the French new positions and remove the danger of flank attacks on the latter.

There is no concealing the fact that the Anglo-French line is still far from being straightened out. The British are still well behind the French.

Briefly summarized these are the successes gained by the British: They carried by assault a further portion of the Leipsig salient, one of the strongest fortified works in the German line, and to the south they forced their way across 500 yards of a German front line trench into the German defenses in the village of Ovillers.

The open town of Lure was bombarded by a German air squadron, eleven women and children being killed and three wounded. Lure is a town of 6,000 lying west of Belfort and near the German lines in upper Alsace.

NEED HELP TO CHECK SCOURGE

Red Cross Nurses Wanted By New York Authorities.

New York, July 8.—An appeal to the American Red Cross for nurses to aid in stamping out the scourge of infantile paralysis here, which since June 1 has caused nearly 200 deaths among children, was made by Health Commissioner Emerson. There are not enough trained nurses available in New York to handle the work, he said, and it has been found necessary to ask aid from the chief of the Red Cross bureau of nursing at Washington. It was intimated that several hundred workers would be needed.

The call for help was sent out after a day devoted by health authorities and the most prominent physicians of the Greater City to a discussion of means by which the spread of the disease can be checked. Some encouragement was found in the fact that fewer new cases were reported. All the medical men agree, however, that only by unremitting vigilance and the strict enforcement of every known sanitary precaution can the epidemic be kept within bounds.

CASE IN COLUMBUS

(By American Press)

Columbus, July 8.—The first case of infantile paralysis in Columbus since January was reported to the health department. The victim is Roman Callahan, thirty months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Callahan. The boy is a twin and one of ten children.

DISEASES IN OHIO

(By American Press)

Cleveland, July 8.—Six cases of infantile paralysis have been brought to the attention of the authorities here. Several other patients are under observation. The latest victim is Anselmo De Franca, seven, whose home is in the congested district. His sister is under observation. All cases have been isolated. Toledo authorities decided to place an embargo on children from New York. The action is taken to prevent introduction of infantile paralysis. Toledo is free from the disease at present.

MEAN THE END?

(By American Press)

New York, July 8.—A big slump is likely in the business of making munitions for the entente powers and in fact has already set in. Thousands of workmen have been dismissed by various firms who have closed the doors of plants created or enlarged for the purpose of putting out arms, ammunitions and war material for England, France and Russia. Most of the contracts let early in the war have been filled. In many cases there were no renewals. One reason for this is the fact that some of the American output has proved inferior in quality. The main cause for the let-up in the "war business," however, is the fact that the allied countries have now sufficiently mobilized their industries to turn out their own arms, ammunitions and material.

'TIS FALSE

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., July 8.—Carranzistas learned that Calixto Contreras, and not Pancho Villa, is leading the band of bandits who defeated the Carranza forces at Corral ranch, in Chihuahua, and later occupied the town of Jiminez. Andres Garcia, Mexican consul at El Paso, asserted positively that there was everything to indicate that Villa was not present personally at the fight. He says prisoners captured by the Carranzistas had documentary proof that Contreras, a former Villa lieutenant, is the leader and that the prisoners claimed to know nothing of Villa.

One report by way of the Pershing base said Villa was dead and that his body had been cremated. Another story, brought here by an American from the south, says Villa is alive, though still compelled to walk with crutches and in no condition to ride a horse.

WAR DEPARTMENT ACTS

No Word Received Regarding Disqualified Companies of the Fifth Infantry—Adjutant General Hough Returns From Washington—Funds Available For National Guard Expenditures—Doings at Camp Willis.

Columbus, July 8.—Federal mustering officers at Camp Willis found four companies of engineering troops, while the war department wants only three from Ohio. This discrepancy may delay for several days or longer the work of mustering the engineers. The Ohio battalion of engineers for years has consisted of four companies, whereas United States army regulations prescribe three. It is now up to Major F. Fanning, Cleveland, commander of the battalion, to designate three companies to go to the border and leave one to return home.

Mayor Robert Mearns, chief mustering officer, received official information that the disqualified company of the Eighth Infantry, B of Akron, will be accepted by the war department. This will make it possible to muster in the Eighth completely, so that the motley clothed recruits can be equipped with uniforms and arms. As soon as this is done the Eighth will be ready for orders to move to the border.

No word has been received as to whether the disqualified companies of the Fifth Infantry, B, D and H, will be accepted. The other companies of this regiment have been ready for muster and physical examinations have been completed. Rejections in this regiment have averaged 12 per cent to the company, which is not quite as heavy as that of the Eighth. Rejected men of several more companies of the Eighth and one company of the Fifth, A of Berea, have gone home.

The squadron of cavalry is being examined physically today, immediately after which the men can be equipped for service.

Adjutant General Hough returned today from Washington. He has learned that the appropriations from which expenditures for the Ohio national guard are to be paid are now available and all bills will be paid as soon as the official forms are completed. He also learned that the rank and relative standing of the various Ohio national guard officers will not be affected by muster into the federal service. When the emergency is over they will automatically resume their positions.

"Everything I have learned," said General Hough, "indicates that the Ohio troops will be sent to the border as soon as they are mustered in and are reasonably equipped for service."

General Hough added that if there is to be any real action in Mexico, he will resign his place with the state administration and go. "It will be up to me to find a place in the service, but I will find it," he declared.

STRANGE CASE

Wooster, O., July 8.—Charged with kidnapping her own children, John and Lucille, Mrs. E. Emmel Geitz is in the county jail, having been arrested by Sheriff Miller at Cambridge and returned here. Her former husband, Henry Emmel of Marshallville, obtained a divorce and custody of the children last January, claiming his wife had eloped with another man. Sheriff Miller was informed by the woman that she had recently married Samuel Geitz, who provided a home for her and the two children at Cambridge. The children were whisked away from the Emmel home at Marshallville two weeks ago in an automobile. Mrs. Geitz will put up a fight to gain custody of the little ones.

CLAMPED DOWN

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., July 8.—America can not ship supplies to any other point in Mexico through the Juarez port to the United States troops at Casas Grandes, unless the partial embargo on war materials which is now in effect at this port is removed.

This ultimatum is said to have been delivered by the Carranza commanders in Juarez to the American army officers and officials and may cause the complete closing of the El Paso-Juarez port to all classes of shipments to Mexico.

The Mexicans have been permitted to ship foodstuffs and everything else but coal, ammunition, military stores and dynamite. American contractors who have been supplying the American troops at Colonia Dublan have been using the Mexico Northwestern railroad for the supply shipments. They have been notified that these shipments can no longer be made unless the port is opened to all classes of Mexican goods, regardless of whether they are for war or commerce. An added threat is that, unless this is done, no more shipments will be permitted to be made through Juarez to any American companies or individuals in Mexico.

KATE M'KINNEY 2ND IN FAST ONE

Friday at the Toledo, Ohio, race meeting the 2:10 pace, purse $1,000—The Page Dairy stake race—was won by All Wilks. In the second heat which was won by Adloo Guy the fastest mile ever paced by a stallion over a half mile track, Adloo Guy won the second heat in 2:05½.

The Fayette county mare, Kate McKinney, driven by Wert Mallow, captured the third heat in 2:08 flat.

Incidentally, and of importance, locally, is the fact that the Fayette county mare took second money in this record smashing big stake race.

WHEAT TAKES JUMP DUE TO SPECULATION

A jump of three cents in the price of wheat occurred Saturday, when Chicago wheat reached $1.06½, or a jump of three cents over Friday's close. Locally the market was little changed.

Dealers predicted a sudden drop first of the week, and stated that the advance in price was due to the work of big speculators in Chicago.

LEESBURG CITIZEN ON BASEBALL MIXUP

The following article concerning the trouble occurring in the baseball game between Hillsboro and the Athletics of this city, is from the Leesburg Citizen:

"Hillsboro Base Ball Club crossed clubs with the Athletics of Washington C. H., Sunday, with a score of 7 to 3 favoring Hillsboro. Corwin and Grandle of Leesburg, played as usual and report an incident that is conceded by all who witnessed it, as unfair treatment to the visitors.

"It seems that a dispute had arisen concerning a decision in which the umpire, Wilbur Swain, and Corwin became involved. The argument waxed warm and the "umps" becoming riled, struck Corwin in the face twice, Corwin realizing the futility of argument with the powers that be did not retaliate—to his credit.

"Upon his return home he was notified by Hillsboro authorities of a warrant for his arrest, filed by the umpire. He was taken to Hillsboro and given the maximum fine for disorderly conduct, which with costs amounted to over $18.00 which the Washington Club will have to stand.

"While it is not our habit to comment upon petty disputes, in this instance a far more manly spirit would have been displayed had they referred the matter to the police in the first place, had the umpire seen fit to eject a player from the game, and also if an arrest was necessary, to get him while in town and save uncalled for transportation fees."

DETAILS OF FATAL AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Concerning the accident which caused the death of Mr. F. R. Leist in Kingston, Thursday evening, the Chillicothe Gazette says in part,

"The impact hurled the automobile around and reduced it to a tangled mass of wreckage, while Leist was hurled sixty feet or more out of the auto and landed on his face alongside the tracks. He was picked up and hurried to the home of Mrs. Robert Blanchard, a sister, and Dr. Hatfield and two nurses were put in charge of the case. Later Dr. Joseph Leist of Columbus was called, but all they could do for him was without avail, for he never regained consciousness and at 11:45 p. m. he died.

"Upon examination it was found that Mr. Leist suffered from a skull fracture at the base of the brain, right shoulder dislocated and the right collar bone fractured."

XENIA CLUB IS OUT FOR MORE LAURELS

The Xenia ball club, which defeated the Athletics in a fast contest here last season, is coming again Sunday confident of repeating last year's performance and adding another trophy to its very enviable 1916 strings.

SEVEN DIE IN STORM

Reports From Hurricane Swept Southland Show Big Loss of Life and Enormous Property Damage.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New Orleans, July 8.—At least seven persons lost their lives and property has been damaged to the extent of more than $4,000,000, according to reports today from the storm swept regions of Alabama and Mississippi.

Rains that assumed the proportions of cloudbursts followed the tropical hurricane in Alabama, causing serious flood conditions at Prattville and Birmingham, where creeks overflowed their banks and are now invading stores and factories.

The death list consists of one white man and six negroes.

The American schooner Mary G. Dantzer, the Norwegian schooner Anezia and an unidentified two-mast vessel were lost off Ship Island in the Gulf of Mexico, according to reports at gulf ports.

The crew of the Anezia was saved but no trace of the others has been found. Thirty-six men comprised the crews of the missing vessels.

Wire communication was restored with Mobile and Pensacola for a short time last night, and it was definitely established that no lives were lost at these places.

It was also developed that reports of loss of life at Beloit, Alabama, were incorrect.

Word comes from Washington that several vessels have been ordered to patrol the gulf coast in search of possible shipwrecks.

The remainder is distributed in smaller bequests to old friends of Mrs. Green. It is estimated that the estate of "the richest woman in the world" amounts to more than $125,000,000. Colonel Green has been associated with his mother in the management of her properties for many years.

ORPET JURORS STUDY CHEMISTRY

Court's Time Occupied With Tales of Experts.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Waukegan, Ill., July 8.—The Orpet jury, referred to sometimes by certain members as a class in chemistry, listened today to further questions and answers appertaining to the subject of cyanide of potassium, with which poison Will H. Orpet, the collegian, is alleged to have murdered Marian Lambert.

The first witness was Dr. Ralph W. Webster, a toxicologist, called in rebuttal by the State.

"You testified in direct examination that Marian Lambert died of liquid cyanide of potassium. Have you changed your opinion since?" asked Attorney Potter.

"I have not," answered Dr. Webster.

Fred I. Wenban, the undertaker, who cared for Marian's body and was the first, according to testimony, to detect the spots on Marian's cloak, was the next witness.

The insinuations of the defense that spots alleged to have been made by cyanide were placed there by some one interested in the prosecution formed the reason for the undertaker's recall.

"Did you put those spots there?" asked State's Attorney Ralph J. Dady.

"I did not," replied Mr. Wenban.

UNSUPPORTED RUMOR HEARD

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, July 8.—A statement by the War Department press bureau today said that more unsupported rumors had been received of the presence of Villa at a place called Canutillo, on the Rio Florida west of Parral.

According to the reports, Villa's wounds were caused by a bullet that passed through the back muscles of both sides without striking a bone, and he has recovered sufficiently to walk with a limp and with greater ease.

Lecturer Is Making Golden Rule Work

GLENN FRANK.

THE existence of the Golden Rule has been recognized for ages. It has been considered a very admirable working plan for the individual in a highly altruistic mood, but as a practical business proposition it has not had the popularity which it deserves. Business has been considered war, and finer instincts of fair play which prevail in many personal relations were swept aside.

Of recent years there has sprung up a new school of enthusiasts, however, who are not content to believe that such an altogether admirable working rule for personal conduct should be allowed to rest there, but that the Golden Rule is equally applicable to business and that some practical method of putting it into operation there should be outlined.

These representatives of the new school of sociology have found the platform the natural channel for the propagation of their modern ideas.

They have been pioneers in thought provoking and have done much in promoting better relations between men in business.

Of those who have attracted conspicuous attention by the saneness and helpfulness of their spoken messages Glenn Frank stands in the forefront. His work for Northwestern University and in the Lyceum and Chautauqua fields has made him a marked man. Recently he was invited by Edward A. Filene of Boston to associate with him in sociological research work and has been doing excellent labor in that field. Mr. Frank belongs to the platform, however, and will this summer return to the Coit-Alber Circuit Chautauquas, where he made such a profound impression two years ago, and will be heard in a new lecture, entitled "Resetting the World Stage."

No man on the American platform has a more constructive message than Glenn Frank. He voices the modern viewpoint with the sincerity of a prophet.

In this lecture Mr. Frank will attempt, by careful arguing from cause to effect, to sketch the probable situation after the great continental war closes—the situation as it will affect American business and American democracy—and to suggest certain desirable American policies.
